STATEMENT FROM COBB COUNTY CHAIRMAN TIM LEE

Nobody is at war with anybody in Cobb County. Last night the Board of Commissioners approved moving forward with a review of police policies and procedures and I would encourage anyone with questions to review the agenda item. In it you will see that Cobb is moving forward with exactly the kind of review that commissioner Cupid and some in the community are requesting. I did voice my frustration with how she has handled herself over the last several months. I encouraged her to work constructively to create a legitimate process for a review and she chose not to do so. Perhaps the tone of my comments caused some to misunderstand my position which has been to initiate a legitimate review of the Cobb Police Department policies and procedures and we did this last night. Further, I am very frustrated and disappointed with the way the county attorney has handled the investigation of Officer Lawson. I want to restate my outrage for what I saw on that tape and restate that I believe there is no place for discrimination in Cobb County.

Kellie,

I am trying to reach Tim Lee regarding a story that I am working on for air today.

You will see the email I sent him below and I called his office as well and they told me to reach out to you.

Mr. Lee,

I hope you're doing well sir. I'm working on a story today involving developments from last night's meeting and I understand that the NAACP has said they are waging a war on the county.

Would you be available for a brief comment on this within the hour?
